BEFORE USING A PRODUCT

Use the current label and Safety Data Sheet

This guide is not a substitute for a product label, Safety Data Sheet (SDS), technical sheet, or site-specific procedure. Product formulas, packaging, directions, and document revisions can change.

- Confirm the exact product name and container size.
- Read the current label and SDS before use.
- Wear the personal protective equipment required by the product directions.
- Never mix cleaning chemicals unless the product directions specifically require it.
- Use compatible dispensing equipment and follow required concentration, temperature, contact-time, and rinsing directions.
- Keep emergency and first-aid information from the current label and SDS available to staff.

REQUEST CURRENT VISTA DOCUMENTS

Three details help us send the right information

1	Product	The exact name shown on the container, plus container size or a label photo when available.
2	Location	The business name and service location so the request reaches the correct Vista branch.
3	Document	Ask for the current label, SDS, technical sheet, application guidance, or training support you need.
